

THE BFUU COMMUNICATOR

Berkeley Fellowship of Unitarian Universalists

April 2019

Upcoming Worship Services

Services at 10:30 a.m.

April 7: What Does It Mean to “Green the Church”?

Ryan Carroll, Guest Speaker

Climate change hits the hardest in communities of color. Now those communities are fighting back through Green the Church, a campaign to expand African American churches’ role as a force for environmental and economic resilience.

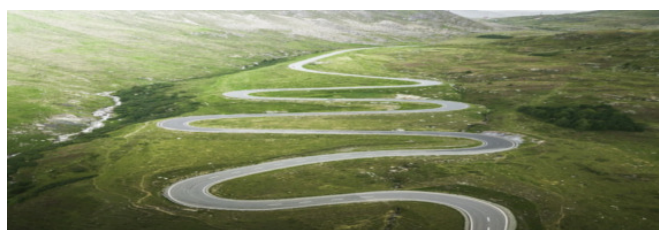

Green the Church empowers church leaders and lay people to develop practical solutions to economic and environmental issues in the Black community. Rev. Ambrose Carroll, the founder, is a Berkeley pastor at Church By the Side of the Road. His nephew Ryan Carroll will speak about how allies can support and enhance the power of Green the Church.

April 14: Faith for the Journey

Rev. Dr. Sue Magidson, Guest Worship Leader

How do you keep on keeping on when things get rough? Does faith play a role? What the heck does faith mean for a UU, anyway?

April 21: Revisiting the Rings of Inclusion

Rev. Marsh Agobert, Worship Leader

We are each entitled to our opinion, regarding absolutely anything and everything. Therefore, we will eventually come to disagree about some or several of these points. Yet, even with this understanding at the outset we still find it important to make these points of contention, so deeply held that we are willing to risk everything; life, limb and planet. How do we fall into such deep separation and how can we change this most ancient of processes; that we might find a way to include even those who are different?

This may well be the tenth hour of our human presence on this planet. The outcome is NOT inevitable; it is a choice. Choose first – figure out how later... as we go.

April 28: After Exodus: Our Call, Our Response

Rev. Dr. Carrie Knowles, Guest Worship Leader

Yesterday was the last day of Passover, a time that commemorates the Israelites’ exodus from their enslavement in Egypt and journey to the Promised Land. This Bible story is myth, not history—yet for centuries it has been a template for liberation and justice. Rev. Dr.

Carrie Knowles considers our challenge as Americans in these turbulent times as our values face attack. Exodus tells us, getting out of bad times is one thing—getting to a better place requires even greater effort and the efforts of new generations.

The Nordic Four Orders of Foreignness

The Nordic language recognizes four orders of foreignness. The first is the otherlander, or utlänning, the stranger that we recognize as being a human of our world, but of another city or country. The second is the framling—Demosthenes merely drops the accent from the Nordic främling. This is the stranger that we recognize as human, but of another world. The third is the raman, the stranger that we recognize as human, but of another species. The fourth is the true alien, the varelse, which includes all the animals, for with them no conversation is possible. They live, but we cannot guess what purposes or causes make them act. They might be intelligent, they might be self-aware, but we cannot know it.

Rev. Marsh

Worship Services

Yakity, Yak, Do Talk Back

Returning to a tradition at the Fellowship, Discussion Groups after service are being road tested as an experiment once a month. Rev. Marsh always encourages members and friends to talk to each other more often and more meaningfully. He has offered to sit and talk with whoever is interested in sharing thoughts and feelings about his sermons on third Sundays. The groups will meet at a round table near the bulletin board. Rev. Marsh and a few Board members have served as facilitators. They encourage participants to think about such questions as “What did I learn from this sermon? What else would I like to know about this subject? Was there anything that I find debatable about the presentation of this topic?” So far, the participants have upheld the UU reputation of having lots to say! Rev. Marsh models another important skill in communication: he has a good listening ear.

Hear Hear – Here!

Could you use a little help to hear the Sunday service more clearly? Help is now available— in the form of personally adjustable headphones. Each Sunday, several headphones will be available at the Greeter's Table near the front door. Just tell the greeter if you'd like to try one and decide for yourself how helpful they can be.

Sound Healing Sunday – Oooohmm

At the Worship Service on March 10, 2019, sound healing practitioner Melissa Felsenstein came to tell us about how sound has been used for thousands of years as a healing agent and created a 20-minute “sound bath” with crystal bowls and other natural sounds. She related her personal experience of suffering from anxiety-related health problems that were eased when she discovered sound healing. We got some feedback that folks would like to have more sound healing at BFUU from Melissa. If you would like us to bring her back for a longer sound healing session, please contact Music Committee chair Margaret or Music Director Dr. Susan. If there is enough interest, we can see if we can sponsor a sound healing event for BFUU and the community.

Dr. Susan T. Mashiyama

Eclectic Guest Musicians at BFUU

We had a variety of other guest musicians at BFUU this past month. The dynamic activist/vocalist Melanie DeMore returned to lead an energy-filled service on March 3, where she also served as the guest speaker. On March 17, St. Patrick’s Day, Irish musicians Jason Courtney and Sean Wahl delighted the congregation with the concertina, low whistle, and bouzouki, while Dr. Susan joined in on fiddle. They told us some interesting and entertaining facts about these recently incorporated instruments, such as how the ancient-sounding low whistle was actually invented in the 1970s. Another highlight of the service was when soloist James Blanchard led the congregation in a joyous and rousing rendition of “When Irish Eyes Are Smiling.”

Poor People's Campaign Update

"This is no time for a casual faith and no time to go it alone. I mean it with every fiber of my being. And it's out of those convictions that I am joining the Poor People's Campaign: A National Call for a Moral Revival. . . ." Rev. Susan Frederick-Gray, President, Unitarian Universalist Association.

Per the Poor People's Campaign, 55% of people in CA are poor or low-income – a total of 21.4 million residents. This includes 65% of children, 57% of women, 66% of people of color, and 39% of White people; of the 130,390 people imprisoned, over 78% are people of color. Over 134,000 people are homeless, including about 4,800 homeless LGBT youth. Working at the state minimum wage, it takes 118 hours of work per week to afford a 2-bedroom apartment. 42% of California's workforce make under $15.00 an hour.

Contrary to common myths, our country—the richest in the world—has abundant resources to protect the environment and ensure dignified lives for all people. The problem is a matter of priorities, as more and more of our wealth flows into the pockets of a small but powerful few—and into our bloated Pentagon budget.

The CA Poor People's Campaign invites you to attend A Poor People's Hearing on Homelessness, Mass Incarceration, and the Criminalization of Poverty, 2-4 PM, Saturday, April 6th, Taylor Memorial Church, 1188 12th Street, Oakland.

The Hearing will feature six Bay Area people speaking on how their lives have been impacted by homelessness, mass incarceration, and/or the criminalization of poverty. Various faith leaders will serve as moral witnesses.

Your presence will help give voice to those who are most often unheard. The PPC is organizing and hosting similar hearings around the country and throughout the state as part of its effort to organize at the local level around and call attention to key issues causing and/or contributing to the evils of systemic racism, homelessness, mass incarceration, the criminalization of poverty, and environmental degradation.

Coinciding with the hearings and to shine more light into the darkness is a statewide bus tour that will make stops at hearing sites and visit impacted areas from the Yurok Reservation in northernmost CA to the CA border with Mexico. For additional information please contact Virginia.

Poetry Corner

Thank you, Mother Earth

Thank you, Mother Earth, for the gift of life and I regret the injustices we have done as human beings
the only species that takes more than we need the biggest predator on the living earth

Need I say more?
all you have to do is listen to the radio
any day, any hour, to hear more than you can tolerate even if you are part of it this mess we have made

And in spite of the ugliness the madness
the haves and have-nots
the crimes and the criminals the killing and the ugliness the greed of the powerful

When I sit in my granny chair
I see the world through the weeds the green, yellow, white, orange wildflowers the bees, the birds, the squirrels on their travels from one tree to the next the common beings, the proletariat like me, part of the poor not middle class not "home-owner"
no property, no assets

except my mind, my body, as they are at nearly 85, exhausted from a life of activism, urgent desire to make my voice heard to right the wrongs to make the world a place where there is no violence no killing, no guns, no winner-take-all

Yes, thank you, Mother Earth.

Remembering Nancy Feinberg

Nancy Feinberg received her first religious education, as a child, at BFUU, and decades later chaired the Board of Trustees for a couple of years. After two bouts of chemo for pancreatic cancer, we had thought she still had a couple of years, but she comfortably and quickly transitioned on March 9th, with loving family at her bedside. Nancy will be remembered by the many children she taught, colleagues, friends, and family as a very sweet and kind, yet powerful, woman. Blessed be

Community Voices - Notes from Near and Far

Please thank on my behalf the ministers, worship associates, and members of BFUU for all the rewarding services and fellowship I've enjoyed in Berkeley. I'll bring back to the UU congregation in North Hatley, Québec many good memories of my time at the Fellowship.

With all good wishes,

Adele Ernstrom

To the Fellowship:

I have many happy memories of the BFUU which go back to the founding of the Fellowship. I served on many committees during the days of my active membership.

I belonged to the music committee, program committee, among others. It was the first church I'd joined and most satisfying.

I'm not able to come now, but hope you are all doing well.

Sincerely,

Margaret (Hamilton)

Memorial Potluck Gathering for Richard Sandling

Saturday April 6 at 2:30 PM in Fellowship Hall

Richard Sandling, long-time BFUU Custodian, musician, and friend, passed away in his home. We gather together as a community to share our memories, stories, music, and food. Some refreshments provided, but bring a *potluck dish to share if you can. All are welcome!

If you have questions, please contact Kathy, Doug, or the office.

*If you bring a dish, please also bring a printed list of all ingredients so those with allergies, interactions and dietary restrictions can enjoy the dishes they can eat and avoid those they can't.

War Tax Resistance Granting Ceremony

Sunday April 14 at 3 PM in Fellowship Hall

The People's Life Fund of the Northern California War Tax Resistance will hold a Granting Ceremony Sunday, April 14 at 3 PM in the Fellowship Hall. We'll begin with a potluck, then have our ceremony. We will give away $15,000 – interest on resisted war tax money – to organizations doing peace and social justice work, who will describe their organizations and specific projects.

The PLF offers counseling/education on various forms of war tax resistance. BFUU has long hosted this very inspiring and worthy event.

Suggested sliding scale donation $20 - $5 for building maintenance and BFUU Social Justice work. (No one turned away for lack of funds. Welcome!)
