June 2: Spiritual Epiphanies from the Life of Mary, Mother of Jesus

Hashim Alauddeen, Guest Speaker

Mary, the mother of Jesus, plays an important role in the legacy of spirituality. Her life has been studied and examined by scholars worldwide. Hashim will reflect on some of the epiphanies which come from her example and look at how we can benefit and use them on our own spiritual journeys and quest for truth.

June 9: Infinite Diversity in Infinite Combinations - Celebrating Diversity as a UU Sacrament

Lincoln Statler, M.A.S.C. (he/him), Lay Worship Leader

Once upon a time, the universe exploded with the potential to be anything. You, me, and those whom we do not know all come from that initial spark of potential infinite diversity in infinite combinations. Let's reflect on this truth and celebrate one of Unitarian Universalism's most cherished sacraments; the Flower Communion. This ritual recognizes the unique perspectives we all bring to Unitarian Universalism and how each of us are transformed when we learn from one another in a covenanted community. Please bring a flower of your choice to this worship service!

June 16: Where Shall We Go From Here?

Rev. Marsh Agobert (he/him), Worship Leader

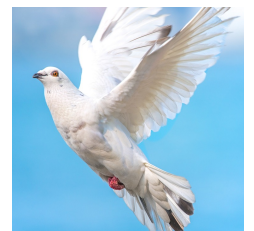

Following our recent examination of homogeneity (members are alike) and the heterogeneous (highly diverse), let us take a look at a specific homogeneous quality of our community to better understand how this affects us now and in the near future.

This month we will open the question of choosing our Fellowship's future. Have we fulfilled our task, by being leaders into this most interesting of times, or shall we choose a bold new purpose and move forward yet again? There is no right or wrong answer to this question. It is a matter of the heart.

June 23: Hope: The Blessed Four-Letter Word

Rev. Dr. Carrie Knowles (she/her), Worship Leader

Hope is that powerful urge we know and act on, long before we grasp the darkness we often must traverse. Rev. Dr. Carrie Knowles shares some of what life teaches us about this powerful force that rises in every language, as in every being.

June 30: Love in the Time Of Hatred

Rev. Leela Sinha (ze/zir), Guest Worship Leader

Pride Sunday, 2019

We were lucky. There was a moment when things were looking up.
They weren't perfect, but they were getting better.
Then the clouds blew in.
What does it mean to love out loud now?

Our Conversation this Year

After several months of publishing this 'Cleric's Corner,' it is time to determine if it has an audience. If you are reading this or have read any of the forgoing, please respond by sending an email (RevMarsh@bfuu.org) or text (707-557-5707) to tell me if you'd like to continue receiving these. You need not spend more time than a simple Yes or No in your response. No response will be counted as a no.

Thank you.

How do we learn to mistrust those who are not similar to ourselves?

I think we can begin to believe that they are not human as we understand humans. This may be caused by our belief in the preciousness of our own ways of being and thinking. Wasn't that exactly the objection which led to our secession from the creedal Catholic and Protestant churches back in the day? They felt that those who didn't agree with them should be eradicated. Isn't that really what we socially seek today?

Please try to hear this clearly and simply: War on terror, war on drugs, war on poverty, war to end all wars. What do these have in common? Why is it so hard to see – we idolize War. One of the dire horsemen.

Rev. Tom warns us that our splintering, from the larger gathering of humanity, into cells so tiny that we become unrecognizable as the body of humanity, a species at the very gate of becoming a truly intelligent life form; each cell degenerating into a lone and isolated 'rugged individual.'

Perhaps it is because we can learn to think of ourselves as specifically and cherished intersectional units (how many and which oppressed intersected units are you?) that we endlessly divide. And yet, I sense humans are social creatures.

Perhaps it is an old habit that we unite to erradicate other united groups (<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Yk3QsGzAjKI>). Or perhaps that was just a trick we used to spark the unification in the first place. Yet I suspect that virtually all of the cells of our Body-Humanity are necessary; and certainly all the native cell types contribute, specifically, to the whole. After all, any apparent one of us is actually X# of trillions of cells; each with a specific agenda that are capable of working toward the good of the whole.

Realizing our potential and purpose need only be preceded by our collective choice. Then we will, as always, find a way. The question is: Do we want to continue?

Cleric's Corner

And that is our current choice as a community, as well. It may well be our small part in the larger, species-wide choice. Do we choose, as a community to move beyond our Current Comfort Zone to become a Whole community? A whole community must, in some way, hold people of all ages. We say we hold time for all ages...but is that what we actually see, here in our midst? Do we feel hopeless to address this?

Remember, the first step is to choose – it is not knowing a method. Choose first, figure out how after. Without choice, no path will have any positive effect. It is said: When you don't know where you're going, any path will get you there. Choose, now. Shall we continue as a community, as an institution? Do we feel a commitment to the future of our children and grandchildren, and theirs? Or have we already done our part?

Our choice is sovereign. There is no RIGHT choice...only our choice.

BFUU Notice of Board Positions

BFUU Nominating Committee Notice: The Nominating Committee hereby inform the congregation that there are two board positions and two alternate positions to which candidates will be elected at the upcoming Annual Congregational Meeting on Sunday June 16, 2019.

please see the Nominating Committee slate next page

Additional nominees, who shall previously have agreed to serve if elected, may be placed on the ballot by written petition signed by at least ten (10) voting members of BFUU, and filed with the Nominating Committee not later than the Saturday preceding the last Sunday before the election. Article VI. E. of BFUU By-Laws.

Board of Trustees (2 year) Nominated Candidates (2 seats)

Ira Armstrong (They/Them, FKA Nanci Armstrong-Temple), grew up in the First Unitarian Church of Los Angeles and is a 3rd generation UU raising 4th generation UUs. They have taught Religious Education classes in different UU churches in Berkeley, Oakland, and Los Angeles both as a volunteer lay leader and as a paid professional. They are a trans Blacktivist, an experienced worship leader, storyteller and vocalist for the revolution.

Ira is currently the Vice President of the BFUU Board, a regular worship associate, an Our Whole Lives facilitator, and the accidental and intentional ad hoc middle school coordinator. They believe it is possible, with OWL and other consent-based sexual education models, to end rape culture in one generation.

According to Ira, it would be an honor to serve a two year term on the BFUU Board of Trustees.

Jeff Palmer (He/Him) grew up in the East Bay and attended Christian churches until adulthood. He has been a plumber, public school teacher, and a volunteer at a variety of places including Haiti and more recently at BFUU as chair of Sunday Service Committee, and a board member. He joined BFUU a few years ago and he and his wife Margaret want to continue to be involved in the exciting things that BFUU does for social and environmental justice.

Board Alternate (1 year) Nominated Candidates (2 seats)

Ben Burch (He/Him) is a retired UC Berkeley library worker who has been an active member of BFUU since the late '90s. He has served on the board several times, and has been an active member of the Social Justice, Buildings and Grounds, and Finance committees. He has served as chair or co-chair of the Buildings and Grounds Committee and the Finance Committee for some time. He has also served on the Committees for Ministry and Fellowship for Rev. Ben Myers and Rev. Earl Koteen.

Joanna Foley (She/Her), a retired social worker, joined BFUU in 2014. Prior to moving to Berkeley, she was active in the Fourth Universalist Church on Manhattan's Upper West Side. There she worked with V-Day4thU, a group which worked to end violence against women and girls by sponsoring an annual fundraising production of "The Vagina Monologues."

The civil rights movement in the 1960s brought Joanna in the UU world in Nashville, TN.

Joanna chairs BFUU's Sunday Services Committee and the Aesthetics Subcommittee of Buildings and Grounds, and serves on the Caring Committee.

When she can find free time away from BFUU, Joanna is a practical mystic, a good cook, a folk dancer and the grandmother of two.

Singing With Longtime Member Margaret Hamilton

In April, members of the BFUU choir took their
ukuleles and went to visit longtime member Margaret Hamilton in her retirement home. Margaret, who is still sharp as a tack, told us about how she had enjoyed singing in the choir at BFUU for many years and she sang along to rousing songs such as "Octopus' Garden" and "This Land Is Your Land." About eight other seniors came into the room to listen, and one lady originally from New Zealand was so pleased that she grasped our hands afterwards and said several times, "I can't tell you how much I enjoyed that" as her eyes sparkled. It gave us all a lift!

Hear Hear – Here!

Could you use a little help to hear the Sunday service
more clearly?

Help is now available— in the form of personally adjustable headphones. Each Sunday, several headphones will be available at the Greeter's Table near the front door. Just tell the greeter if you'd like to try one and decide for yourself how helpful they can be.

Street Spirit

this morning it rained again outside Peet's a man was selling Street Spirit
 the valiant voice of the homeless easier to confront than a spare changer asking for money with a cup, not a newspaper

he said the front-page story would break my heart
 a young woman of 16 found dead
 of an overdose of pills
 in a motel room

double diagnosis, say the experts mental illness and drug abuse

we talked of the needless suffering in this land of the rich and the poor
 we need to turn this country around, I said, yes, get together, said he, people power is bigger than all their wealth

the politicians are just a front for the real criminals we have to organize and fight and take back this country heading home in my rusty old Chevy to my rent-controlled apartment

 I knew I was the granddaughter of a Jewish radical anarchist, teacher, poet and visionary
 on one side

and a Unitarian, socialist, and one-world believer on the other.

I couldn't put Street Spirit down passion and compassion ran hot in my veins
 thought maybe I can write for Street Spirit
 join forces somehow
 with people who live on the street
 just one step away
 from my apartment where the rent goes up as my income goes down and

I hang on for dear life
 wondering each month
 how I will survive
 hold onto body and soul
 and sustenance

What happens to the spirit when you're on the street?
